MADAME SECRETARY. DR. HENRY MCCORD AND JANE FELLOWS ARE MEETING IN A PUB TO DISCUSS THEIR ASSET DMITRI'S SISTER AND THE SITUATION WITH THE RUSSIANS

HENRY

So what's your plan? Just let her get picked up by the Russians?

JANE

I told you we have people stationed all around that hospital. That is not gonna happen.

HENRY

But you can't leave a team in Stockholm forever.

JANE

Well, you got that right. Upstairs is already sweating me.

HENRY

What did they say about reading Talia in?

JANE

It's under consideration.

HENRY

Look, the only way to get her to trust us is if I can tell her what my real connection to Dmitri is.

JANE

Look, I understand your frustration Henry...

HENRY

I don't think you do.

Jane's i-phone buzzes with a text. She picks it up, looks at it, then sets it down

HENRY (CONT'D)

The least we can do for Dmitri at this point is to guarantee his sisters protection.

Jane picks up the phone again and looks at who's texting her

HENRY (CONT'D)

We need to get her into our custody.

JANE

So, what, you just want to grab her off the street?

HENRY

Yes! For her sake and Dmitri's, yes. Absolutely.

Jane's phone buzzes again. She picks it up and looks at who's texting again

HENRY (CONT'D)

What is it?

JANE

Our sources indicate that the Russians are standing down on trying to find Talia.

HENRY

(he realizes what this report means)
Because they don't need her any more.

JANE

I'm sorry Henry.

HENRY

He was 24 years old. Twenty-four.

JANE

Where you going?

HENRY

To give Talia the news. I owe her brother that much.
